

Fact sheet 8

Environmental cab issues

- Currently there are 50 liquid petroleum gas (LPG) cabs licensed and others on trial.
- Fuel cell cab being developed. (Long term project). This would have zero emissions.
- From January 2002 – Manufacturers must be producing selling vehicles compliant to 'Euro 111' emission standards.
- Many other projects in hand looking at fuel savings and emissions and environment.